Overview

How does an arc flash switchgear work?

Generally, this type of switchgear will come with flaps that open under the intense pressure of arcing energy. The flaps allow the heated gases of an arc flash and the pressure to safely vent out of the enclosure and away from the operator. When venting arc flash gases outside of the switchgear room is necessary, extra duct work is used.

Who manufactures arc-resistant switchgear?

Eaton was the first major North American manufacturer to design, test, and manufacture arc-resistant switchgear in accordance with EEMAC G14.1. We now offer Type 2 and 2B arc-resistant switchgear assemblies, designed and tested in accordance with the IEEE C37.20.7, with Type VCP-W drawout vacuum circuit breakers.

How to protect workers from arc flash incidents?

Foot Protection: Leather boots or insulated shoes. These protective measures can effectively reduce the risk of injury in arc flash incidents and ensure workers' safety. We offer multiple optional or customized components. These configurations can be customized according to requirements to better meet security needs.

What should workers wear during an arc flash incident?

At this level, workers need to wear multiple layers of protective clothing to ensure the best protection in the event of an arc flash incident. Protective Clothing: FR (flame-resistant) shirts, pants, and multi-layer protective suits. Head and Face Protection: Arc-rated hood or safety helmet with an arc-rated face shield.
