French energy storage power station planning

Overview

What is France's largest battery energy storage system (BESS)?

Leading battery storage developer Harmony Energy is set to deliver France's largest battery energy storage system (BESS)—the Cheviré battery project – using Tesla Megapack technology. The project will mark a significant milestone for the French energy system, being France's first large-scale 2-hour battery.

Is France becoming a more attractive market for battery energy storage systems?

This report explores how France is becoming a more attractive market for battery energy storage systems (BESS). The French electricity system is dominated by nuclear and hydropower, which results in lower volatility – typically a driver of battery economics.

How big is France's energy storage capacity?

Global energy storage capacity was estimated to have reached 36,735MW by the end of 2022 and is forecasted to grow to 353,880MW by 2030. France had 90MW of capacity in 2022 and this is expected to rise to 359MW by 2030. Listed below are the five largest energy storage projects by capacity in France, according to GlobalData's power database.

How much energy storage capacity does France have in 2022?

France had 90MW of capacity in 2022 and this is expected to rise to 359MW by 2030. Listed below are the five largest energy storage projects by capacity in France, according to GlobalData's power database. GlobalData uses proprietary data and analytics to provide a complete picture of the global energy storage segment.
