How many mAh does the mobile lithium power pack have

Overview

How many times can a mAh battery charge a phone?

It measures the battery's capacity, or how much charge it can store. A 10,000 mAh power bank can theoretically charge a 3,000 mAh smartphone battery about 2.5 to 3 times, considering conversion loss. However, mAh only tells part of the story, especially when different devices run at different voltages.

How much battery can a power bank charge?

A typical smartphone has a battery capacity of under 4,000 mAh. A power bank with a 10,000 mAh capacity (real capacity 6,000–7,000 mAh) can charge the majority of smartphones at least two times to 100% capacity.

How many Mah does a battery pack have?

The resulting pack has a 5,200 mAh rating and a nominal voltage of 10.8 V. If you wired the six Li-ion cells differently, say in 2S3P (two cells in series, and three of those sets in parallel), you'd get a battery pack with a 7,800 mAh rating, albeit at 7.2 V.

How many times can you charge a 5000 mAh battery?

The FixHub's battery pack contains six 2,600 mAh 3.6 V Li-ion cells. The colloquial mAh would therefore be $6 \times 2,600 = 15,600$ mAh. This colloquial mAh value would make it easy to understand that you can charge your 5,000 mAh phone battery with the FixHub Power Station approximately three times. But it would be technically incorrect.
