Will Saudi Arabia develop a storage capacity of 48 gigawatt-hours?

Under the National Renewable Energy Program, which is overseen by the Ministry of Energy, Saudi Arabia aims to develop a total storage capacity of 48 gigawatt-hours by 2030. To date, projects totaling 26 gigawatt-hours have been tendered and are currently in various phases of development.

How is Bess powering Saudi Arabia's giga-projects?

This case study explores how BESS is powering Saudi Arabia's giga-projects, ensuring energy reliability, sustainability, and scalability. Battery Energy Storage Systems are advanced solutions that store electrical energy for later use, balancing supply and demand while enhancing grid stability.

Is Saudi Arabia a leader in battery energy storage?

The Kingdom enters the top ten global rankings for battery energy storage with ambitious future capacity goals. Saudi Arabia is establishing itself as a significant player in the energy storage sector, now ranked among the top ten global markets for battery energy storage.

Does Saudi Arabia use lithium-ion batteries?

Saudi Arabia's BESS deployments primarily use lithium-ion batteries, which account for 80% of the Kingdom's 300 MWh installed capacity in 2023. These systems are designed to: Store Energy: Capture excess renewable energy during peak production. Discharge on Demand: Release stored energy during high demand or low renewable generation.
