

Zagreb battery share in energy storage investment

Overview

How much battery storage capacity will Europe have in 2023?

According to the latest analysis from SolarPower Europe, Europe added 17.2 GWh of new battery energy storage capacity in 2023, a 94% increase over the previous year, marking the third consecutive year of the market roughly doubling. This brought the total installed battery storage fleet to around 36 GWh by the end of the year.

How are battery capacity auctions shaping Europe's storage trajectory?

Capacity auctions, feed-in mechanisms, and targeted subsidies have created more predictable investment environments. In countries like Italy and Spain, new auction schemes are being designed specifically for battery capacity. At the same time, the global supply chain is shaping Europe's storage trajectory.

Are batteries reshaping power markets?

After years of being a niche component of the energy transition, batteries are now entering the mainstream of power markets. Record deployment numbers, driven by renewable integration needs and falling technology costs, are attracting major investments and reshaping energy strategies across the continent.

Are batteries the key to Europe's decarbonization toolbox?

But with proactive coordination, batteries can continue to serve as one of the most versatile and scalable tools in Europe's decarbonization toolbox. In the years ahead, storage will play a decisive role in making Europe's energy system more resilient, flexible, and ultimately more affordable.
